THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Mr. P. Agote, Head of the National Credit Office, has written a most interesting article, which has appeared in the Nueva Revista of Mr. E. Quesada. A clear statement is made by the writer of every Argentine loan, embracing the Home and Foreign Debt. Mr. Agote purposes giving a lucid description of the indebtedness of the country, embracing National, Provincial and Municipal debts up to Dec. 31, 1883. Owing to the extension of such a lengthy paper, Mr. Agote has begun publishing the same in chapters, the first of which refers to the National debt of the country. To those who wish to read details we recommend the article in Mr Quesada's Revista, as in these columns we can only make general reference to each loan.

The following is a list of Argentine foreign loan Acts in pounds sterling :—

	£
Emprestito Ingles, 1854..	1,000,000
Deferred, 1857.....	1,641,000
Loan, 1866-68.....	2,500,000
" 1870.....	1,034,700
" 1871.....	6,122,400
" Oct, '72 & July, '73	2,640,800
" Oct. 2, '80	2,450,000
" Jan. 17, '82.....	1,640,215
" Sept. 5, 82.....	817,000
" Oct. 12, '82	1,700,595
" Oct. 18, '83	3,280,430
" "	213,263
" Oct. 25, '83.....	5,952,390
Total.....	30,392,733

The Nation has paid the following sums on account of interest and sinking funds on the above loans :—

	Interest.	Sinking Fund.
	$ m/n	$ m/n
English debt ...	6,803,219	2,130,064
Deferred stock..	2,344,655	6,344,776
1866-68 loan ...	8,417,515	7,618,968
1871 loan	17,341,485	14,062,104
1870 loan	1,041,234	984,312
1872-73 loan ...	5,025,944	1,291,752

Oct. 12, '82....	221,412	64,457
Oct. 18, '83....	1,068,636	218,550
	44,794,349	33,114,655

Thus we have the following figures up to Dec. 31, 1883 :—

	£
Foreign debt.....	30,392,733
Interest paid.....	8,865,548
Sinking funds do.....	6,553,942

On the 31st Dec., 1883, the foreign debt of the Argentine Government floating in the market stood at £21,185,614 stg., or in $ m/n 106,765,415.

Turning our attention to the home debt of the Argentine Government we have the following list of home loan Acts up to the end of last year :—

	$ m/n
1858 Act	1,330,523
1866 do.....	2,917,652
Hard Dollars	23,496,345
Roads and Bridges	1,550,003
Nat. Bank, 1872.....	2,066,670
Treasury Bills.....	5,166,670
Do. do.....	513,774
Do. do.....	1,033,335
Independence Act.....	1,033,335
Do. 28th Oct., '81.....	4,133,341
Acts Nov, '81 and Sept, '82	465,000
Lanus Deposits	800,000
Famatina Tram.....	600,000
B. Aires Port	20,000,000
Fractionary currency....	6,000,000
Act 25th Oct., '83	5,000,000
	76,006,655

Say £15,000.000.

The nation has paid for account of interest and sinking funds on the above home loan Acts the following amounts :—

	Interest.	Sinking Funds.
	$ m/n.	$ m/n
1858 Act	1,366,880	660,930
Oct. 1st, 1860...	3,238,972	2,917,652
H. Dollars	19,882,807	8,876,028
Roads & Bridges	1,181,146	536,301
Oct. 19, 1876 ...	1,919,939	1,013,805
Oct. 2d, 1876....	156,187	39,266
Oct. 24, 1876...	881,251	..
Sept. 2, 1881 ..	63,817	13,486
Oct. 28, 1881...	151,032	30,483
Nov.'81 & Sept'82	41,850	14,000
Lanus Deposits..	47,627	8,000
Famatina	..	..
B. Aires Port....	..	..
Fractionary currency.....	..	..
Oct. 25, 1888....	..	..
Total....	29,032,408	14,109,951

Thus we have the following totals :—

Voted by Acts of Congress up to Dec., '83—

	$ m/n
Foreign Debt.....	153,544,000
Home Debt.....	76,000,000
	229,544,000

Say forty-six millions sterling in round figures, but the bonds of the Government floating in the market in Dec., 1883, only amounted to—

	$ m/n
Foreign Debt.....	167,000,000
Home Debt.....	76,000,000
	177,000,000

Say thirty-five millions sterling. The debt has been greatly reduced by the process of amortization, and many of the loans voted have not yet been placed.

It is really incredible what large sums the nation has paid on account of interest and amortization on these loans :—

	Interest.	Sinking Funds.
	$ m/n	$ m/n
Foreign Debt...	44,800,000	33,115,000
Home Debt.....	29,000,000	14,100,000
Total...	73,800,000	47,215,000

Making a grand total of 121,000,000 dollars paid for the service of the debt.

All these figures refer to the public debt of the Argentine Government, to the total exclusion of loans made for account of Provincial Governments or Municipalities.

MENDOZA RAILWAY INAUGURATION.

IX.

Mr. Mogrovijo, whose father for half a century was the well-known escribano in Buenos Aires, is now the proprietor of the Club Social hotel in Mendoza, a grand, stately house belonging to Gonzalez, the banker; it is, we believe, the best house in the city. They are building now a fine 2-storey house for the National Bank, but Mendoza, due to its earthquake proclivities, is a city of one-storey houses, and hence the houses cover a large area. Mr and Mrs Parish and family, Mrs Barker, Mr and Miss Fisher, Mr White, Tedin and self all stopped at this club house, whilst the remainder of our party were scattered through the city. Messrs. Graham, Robinson and Galwey had splendid apartments at the National Bank, Messrs. Lacrosse, Martinez, Alzaga and others had rooms under the tall trees of Calle San Martin, whilst Messrs. Moreno and Catlin had a very splendid private house all to themselves. We were all so comfortably accommodated that none of us cast a thought on the possibility of being all swallowed up in the night by another earthquake. We had the great pleasure of meeting Dr Day, the oldest and most respected foreign settler in Mendoza; he has spent his whole lifetime up there and is one of the largest landed proprietors in the province; he greatly reminded me in manner, profession and gait of my old friend Dr Cunningham of Buenos Aires, who died in 1868. Dr Day has of course an immense practice and his known to everyone in Mendoza; his daughter, who has recently arrived back from England, is a charming, fascinating girl. Dr Day is a native of Derbyshire, but speaks more Spanish than English; he knows everything about Mendoza and knew Mr Green, the British Vice-Consul there, who perished in the earthquake; deceased was brother to our talented London Correspondent. As an instance of the great facility with which foreigners make fortunes in Mendoza, Dr Day told us of Mr Gibbs, an Englishman, who had lately died there leaving his children a splendid fortune. Gibbs began life, we believe, as a cabin boy, left his ship in Valparaiso, crossed the Andes on foot, and up in one of the passes almost starving had the good fortune to meet an Englishman, who out of compassion gave him a mare and a few dollars; the offspring of that mare was a mule, and with the mare and mule Gibbs worked many a long day until he got a little money together, came down to S. Luis, bought sheep, fattened them in Mendoza and then drove them over the Andes, and sold them in Chile at such good prices, that he stuck to the business all the rest of his life; bought sheep and camps, and cows with his profits, and died, leaving his children a very large fortune. The doctor spoke in very high terms of the industry of Gibbs, and said, the same money is to be made in Mendoza to-day by any one who has the same go and industry as Gibbs. The doctor said, many people come up from Buenos Aires nominally to see the camps, but they generally go away without seeing them, and pronounce on their value without even riding over them. He said that in the south of the province there are fine estancia lands. Col. Ortega, the Governor of Mendoza, has a fine estancia in the south, but it takes 5 days to get to it. H.E. presented me with a very splendid cheese of a square block shape, and gave Mr. Parish and Mr Fisher similar presents. We brought the cheese home, and it is pronounced by all to be equal to the best Gruyere, of course, now that the railway runs we shall get many of these cheeses here, they would sell well, as also the 'tabletas,' which the women make for the 'confiterias' in the city. Dr. Day told us of a German, who came up to La Paz from Buenos Aires to report on some camp there, 3 leagues front on the river by 10 deep. It was bought in Buenos Aires, by some Englishmen as a great bargain, at 300 Bol. per square league: but the German, who went over it told the doctor it was not worth the ashes of his cigar; yet the frontage on the river must be good and valuable since it can be irrigated. Some Australians and New Zealanders were up at Mendoza about a month ago, and the doctor says he doesn't think they saw much of the lands they came up to look at; however, they went away with a very poor opinion of the Mendoza lands. One of the party went to San Rafael in the coach, and from thence took horses and a guide, and galloped straight and across the pampa to Poitague, Victorica, General Acha, Trenque Lauquen, Trelen, Guamini, and took the Southern Railway train, and came into town. This is about the most daring exploit in the way of looking at new camps we have heard of. We believe our friend crossed very sandy Arabian districts, and we do hope that he will send us a chapter on his memorable pampa ride. Mr Donald Campbell visited us at the hotel and shewed us a telegram from Mr. Schwartz, received that day, stating that machinery for boring for petroleum, of the value of 10,000 pats, had been at last shipped, and Mr. Campbell was in very great spirits at this glorious news. The petroleum springs are about 8 league distant from the city and Mr Campbell, who is a Canadian miner, and who has been all over the petroleum districts of Pennsylvania, says that there is far more petroleum in Mendoza than in any other place he has seen. He seemed to us an experienced and intelligent man, he had come to this country from California, via Chile, had erected on contract a large flour mill and knew all about machinery. Mr. Matzen his partner is determined to carry out the petroleum business, which we believe admits of no doubt, since without even the trouble of boring the petroleum in cases comes bubbling up, and they hope by means of this petroleum to drive the locomotives on the railway and to light up Mendoza. We wish our friends the very best success, and as they have got Schwartz with them and the petroleum is there, we see no reason why the business should not prove the most brilliant success; whatever question may exist as to the coal there is certainly none respecting petroleum, and but for the shut-up state of the Interior, want of skilled labor, means of communication, &c., this immense source of National wealth would long since have been tapped. There is a concession granted for the lighting of the city of Mendoza, which has been sold in London to a company formed, and Dr. Civit told me that Lucas Gonsalez of Buenos Ayres, who knew all about this company &c., says that 2 engineers are coming out from England and with machinery &c., to bore both for coal and petroleum. They wont have to bore very far, and the day these explorations result in success, there is a new departure for the Plate and those who have property in it. The day that coal is found in Mendoza, the whole National debt of the Argentine Republic is paid off at par. Mendoza kerosene will yet be selling in the shops of Buenos Aires, and all the yards in the Boca filled to their utmost with Mendoza coal. We met Governor Ortega whilst on our way to visit the Bishop; the Governor took us into his coach and drove us all over the town, he is an affable pleasant man about 37 years of age, ann we had the great pleasure of bringing his mother back with us on our return to Buenos Aires. Governor Ortega believes that in the whole republic there is nothing to come up to the vine growing business; he told me that the land is cheap, say $200 per square; the cost of ploughing the land irrigating it and planting the vines is so small that the business requires very little capital, and once the vineyards are fairly started they give to the proprietor a splendid rental that holds for at least 100 years without changing the vines; one man is after the first year able to care 3 squares of vines; very many parties who came up from Buenos Aires for their health started vine 'chacras' and now they are completely independent and have money over to send to their friends in Buenos Aires. A party to start in a very large way, say invest 50,000 Nats, can secure a clear rental of £20,000 or say 100,000 pats per annum after the first year of preliminary expenses. We noted so many shopkeepers and so many townspeople in the vine business that we accept the Governor's dictum as the plain truth and without any exaggeration.

POLIUTO.

On Saturday night we had the pleasure of seeing "Poliuto" on the Colon boards, and must confess that in every respect the performance merited all the applause it evoked. The opera is truly short and sweet (without irony); it cannot pretend to either the delicate harmony of Verdi or the sublime inspirations of Meyerbeer; its 'argument' is strikingly bare, and yet it calls for as great effort on the parts of the baritone, prima donna and particularly the tenor as many of the works of other great masters.

The prima donna, Mdlle Theodorini, is a perfect artist. Her acting is perfection and her voice a marvel of sweetness and cultivation. The ease with which she accompanies Tamagno's magnificent volume of voice and without the great physical efforts that many noted artists are compelled to have recourse to, is a signal example of the wonderful voice that she commands. The opera is not a particularly happy one for the prima donna, yet she rendered the role with such charming grace that the house was roused to an extraordinary pitch of enthusiasm. We must congratulate Madlle Theodorini on her brilliant success.

Coming to the tenor's role there is food for description that would tempt the enthusiasm of a sybarite. The opera was written for a tenor, hangs on the tenor, and was sung by a great tenor. It is a composition that could assuredly only be saved from mediocrity by such an artist as Tamagno, and there is no opera that gives him a better opportunity of displaying his wonderful gifts to such advantage.

His solo at the opening of the second act was a prelude to an ovation, and the trio and duo in the same act with Mdlle Theodorini and the baritone brought down the house. Not once nor twice but eight times the curtain had to be raised, and as "a straw shows how the wind blows," the acclamations that greeted la Theodorini and Tamagno's appearance alone clearly signified where the favour of the public lay. The baritone, Sr. Verdini, was unobtrusively good. He is not powerful enough to create a furore, but still always equal to his part. His best scene, outside part singing with the prima donna and tenor and in which he certainly held his own, was the opening scene with the white robes in the third act. The opera is extremely limited as regards the "dramatis personæ" and with the exception of the basso, who also sang extremely well there is no other character to call for comment.

The chorus in Colon is never a miracle, and we cannot say that it is an improvement on former years; however, neither is there a marked deterioration. The ballet should have to make a hard fight to escape mediocrity. Not a single round of applause encouraged the fair nymphs, and a most grotesque appearance in sailors' costume excited the mirth of the audience, the solitary sign of interest displayed. The theatre was full from "Paradise" to the very depths of—well not the black pit, and was empty again before 11.30 p.m.

J. L. M.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN. RAILWAY.

LONDON MEETING.

MR. FAIR'S SPEECH.

The ordinary half-yearly meeting of this Company was held on Thursday, the 24th of April, 1884, at the Terminus Hotel, Cannen-street, E.C.

Mr. John Fair in the chair.

The acting secretary (Mr. T. H. Ridsdale) read the notice convening the meeting, and the minutes of the previous meeting, which were read and confirmed. The report was taken as read.

The Chairman said: Gentlemen,—Before proceeding to the formal business of the meeting, I desire, on behalf of my colleagues and myself, to express our deep sense of the loss we have experienced in the death of our late valued colleague and esteemed friend, Mr. Spencer Herapath. There is no doubt that he was one of the ablest colleagues on a Railway Board that we could have had, and no man understood more thoroughly the business he had in hand than he did. This subject will be referred to more especially in a motion which will be submitted to you later on; but I did not think it was fitting to commence the business of the day without referring to the great loss we have sustained. The allusion also suggests the question of selecting his successor, and I may mention that we have letters from several gentlemen largely interested in the railway, offering themselves as candidates for the vacant seat on the Board, but we consider it would be scarcely courteous that this matter should be taken in consideration in the absence of our Chairman, and we therefore wait his return. I now address myself to the special business of the report. You are aware that this is the first six months of a new system of rendering our accounts, and that the half-yearly report now corresponds to this term. This system has been adopted in consequence of the course of trade in that country being such that our former annual comparisons could not very well be relied upon as indicating the growth of our traffic and the progress we are making from year to year. The export trade and the greater part of the import trade, too, is carried on between the 1st October and the 31st of March, and it was considered desirable, in order to attain the important object of working upon reliable data, that henceforth our financial year should be from the 1st July to the 31st of June of the following year, and therefore, I shall not be required, nor will it be possible for me to go into any details with regard to the accounts. I shall confine myself, therefore, to the more important points in conection with this report which is now before you. The first heading of our report is that of gross receipts. These, as you will be pleased to see—as it is the most important index we have of our success—continued to be upon a largely increasing scale. These receipts owe something to the carriage of the railway materials for our extensions; but, after deducting this amount, there still remains a very large increase, which is due entirely to our local business. I think it is well in this conection that you should know exactly what amount of our income is due to the carriage of construction materials. Our gross receipts for commercial business alone would have been £265,421 15s. 1d., and the working expenses £140,245, 19s. 8d., the net profit being £124,675 15s. 5d.,

Our net income from the carriage of construction and railway materials is £15,053 0d. 6d.; thus, you see, leaving a very large amount due solely to the increase of our natural traffic. A very significant item, which showed our growing prosperity, and also the well-to-do-ness of the whole country, is the large increase in our receipts from general goods. The next item of importance is under the head of passengers, and a safe index, too, of the growing prosperity of the country, the increase being 27,515. The next important increase which we have to refer to is that in the number of animals carried, which is, I think, an earnest of a largely increasing traffic in this direction. For this increase we are, I think, in a great measure indebted to the enterprise of those gentlemen (two of whom are members of our Board, Mr. Drabble and Mr. Pulley,) who have successfully inaugurated a trade which will not only prove of the greatest advantage to our railway, but to every one of us who has an interest in live stock out there, and which will also be an immense boon to the country generally. I refer to the trade in frozen meat, three cargoes of which have been landed in splendid condition, and augur well for the success of this enterprise. There are only two items upon which there is any decrease at all. One would be a serious one, but that it happens to be purely accidental. I refer to posts. Owing to the great expense of carting heavy materials during a wet spring, the fencing in of new lands down south was completedly put a stop to, but we have news that last month the furthest station opened to traffic on the new extension to La Gama was blocked up with immense quanties of iron wire, posts, and other materials, which were lying there to be distributed amongst the new estancias which were being formed in the south.

(To be Continued)

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

OUR LEGISLATORS.

May 9th.

Mr. Anderson, an old Parliamentary reporter, has favoured the world with a very entertaining book called "Scenes in the Commons," in which he gives a slight, even too slight, an account of the rules and customs of the House; but his sketches of the more celebrated members of Parliament are clever and impartial. Mr. Anderson professes to be "in favour of change, so that it be consistent with justice;" beyond that he seems to have no pronounced opinion, and, as his book shows, he is every inch "a reporter," and has a vast opinion of the House of Commons. I think I cannot entertain your readers better than in making a few extracts from a book which is so new and likely to be much read. It must be premised that I only pick out the plums, and that to have a fair idea of the work you must read it. The author naturally gives an amusing account of unreported speeches and of zealous aspirants for Parliamentary fame whose very names are unknown to the public, because as soon as a "bore" has arranged his papers and blue books, and looks up to the rows of reporters in the gallery and commences his great oration, the House, by some one on the watch, is immediately counted out. The undelivered speech, however, appears in a local paper. Others, as we know, succeed in making a speech which appears next morning as "after a few words from Mr. So and So," &c. Scotch speeches also appear in the local papers.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Mr. Anderson eulogises as the "pink of political politeness." The Conservative nominal leader is 66 years of age, but time has dealt kindly by him. He still retains a fine head of brown hair, guiltless of even an incipient tonsure. Every sentence of his speeches might be taken down in shorthand and printed verbatim. He unwinds his argument, or rather narrative, as if it were a tape measure, increasing in length but not altering in breadth, as it proceeds regularly from the neat shuttle of his understanding. Amongst other failings, as a leader of a great party, Sir Stafford had the misfortune to be once private secretary to Mr. Gladstone, and even now he cannot help looking on the Prime Minister as his master.

Lord Hartington. Dressed in a rough manly fashion, light trousers and heavy boots, he sits more or less patiently on the Treasury Bench, with his eyes closed, his arms folded and his large shapely, white hands tucked under the joints of his elbows, his broad shoulders pressed against the back of his seat and his long legs crossed straight before his body. His aspect betokens power and his voice authority. The noble Marquis habitually treats some members of the Opposition, and particularly the Parnellites, with great hauteur and his own side with lofty politeness. If anyone dares to complain he springs to his feet, with all his pride and passions roused, and falls on him like a Viking moved to slaughter. He speaks at such times with wonderful declamatory force. The House might imagine the noble champion of Chatsworth in full panoply astride his war-horse, spear in rest, charging an army.

Mr. Beresford Hope. You see him as he rises in his place, stout and smiling. You see him bend forward the large circumference of his body from where the hips once were, and give a little stamp with his right foot and make a large turn with his little fat hand and droop his unkempt head over his left shoulder and you hear him "coo."

Sir Richard Cross. First a lawyer and afterwards a statesman, his legal training has stood him in good stead as a Parliamentary debater. His figure is homely, and his shrewd face is set off with a large reddish beard. It cannot be said that the author of the Draconian "Prisons Regulations" fails from the defects of overgraciousness.

Mr. Forster. His bridgeless nose is thick and round in the regions of the nostrils, his cheeks are wide and full, and his anxious eyes are deep-set beneath a massive forward browseamed with thought and half-covered with sparse patches of hair combed downwards carelessly from right to left. He wears a ragged, red and grey beard and a moustache, which gives the chief point of character to his face, cut close to the upper lip, straight across from corner to corner of a wide mouth. Tall and somewhat fleshy, with large feet and hands, and long legs that hang loosely from the knee-joints; he walks with quick uncertain strides and sits with his body forward towards the edge of his seat, his chin on his breast, his eyes cast down and his hands clasped across the region below the buttons of his waistcoat. For a man of 66 years of age Mr. Forster displays extraordinary physical vigour. During the long, tedious, and soul-wearing stages of Mr. Gladstone's Irish remedial legislation through the Commons, how often did I mentally liken him to a male Penelope in a linen waistcoat. The projects which he framed in Downing-street in the daytime, he was forced to undo in Parliament at night. Compared with his Protean changes, the chameleon is a symbol of stability.

Sir William Harcourt. Only a very impudent querist seeing him stride about the lobbies and corridors of the House of Commons would venture to inquire concerning one whose every movement betokens importance "whether he was anybody in particular?" Such a forcible nature is sure to be more or less distinctive, and it seems natural that Sir William should approve of the birching of juvenile offenders.

Mr. Henry Chaplin. Tall and robust of frame, and dressed with careless elegance, he would command attention in any assembly as a pattern high-class Englishman. With fair, curling hair, somewhat thin on the crown of the head, and fair whiskers, blue eyes, a well-formed aquiline nose and full-formed chin, Mr. Chaplin only needs a large firm mouth to make his head a type of intellectual power. The son of a clergyman, of a sound English stock, he is Tory to the backbone.

The Fourth Party consists of three persons. Lord Randolph, Henry Spencer Churchill, Sir Henry Drummond Wolff and Mr. John Eldon Gorst. From four o'clock in the afternoon, all through dreary question time, Lord Randolph sits impatiently in his place, gently agitating his left knee, nursed above his right, and affectionately caressing his moustache. Dexter and sinister hands go up alternately to the silky darling of his lips. Fresh with rest, or haggard and pale with late hours, Lord Randolph never ceases to fondle the moustache. Undoubtedly, this old young man prefers politics to what is called pleasure, yet does not ignore the claims of society in the world of worlds. He is of the very few Members of Parliament who dress for dinner. His daring knows no bounds. Mr. Gladstone once called across the floor that he had utterly smashed, pulverised and annihilated him. That was a mistake. The Prime Minister might as well have attempted to annihilate a Jack-in-the-Box by shutting down the lid.

The Parnellites.—The Reverend Isaac Nelson, M.P., for Mayo an ex-Presbyterian Minister of Belfast, is the possessor of a truly wonderful oratorical style. The good old man accustomed to thunder anathemas from his pulpit against the sins of the congregation—unanswered and unopposed—seemed surprised at his reception made up of ironical cheers and scornful laughter. He made a few fugitive efforts to combat the Commons to look at Irish politics from his perfervid point of view, and then quietly subsided. Since which he has renounced Mr. Parnell and all his works, and has ceased to attend the sittings of the House.

Mr. Callan, who has been sixteen years in Parliament, formerly sat for Dundalk as a Litoral and moderate Home Ruler. A man of ability but extremely self-willed and apparently utterly without tact, he is nevertheless accomplished in all the arts of obstruction, and has several times been named from the chair and suspended. Yet he bears no malice and will retire—on compulsion—kissing his hand to Mr. Speaker with an astonishing light-heartedness.

Mr. Sexton's speeches are well reasoned and exhaustive essays; and one-half his talent would make the fortune of a Junior Lord of the Treasury.

Mr. Biggar made his fortune as a provision merchant in Belfast. His small shrewd face is full of latent humour, his little twinkling eyes, his little tip-tilted nose, his long upper lip, broad angular mouth and large ears proclaim him ripe for mischief and rollicking fun. He prefers to wear his black cloth trousers short in the leg, in order to display the bold outlines of a pair of feet encased in gigantic Wellington boots. He affects a frock coat, and is famous for his sealskin waistcoat, when addressing the House he draws himself up to his full height—about five feet—and cocking his little chin held sideways in the air, he places his thumbs in the arm-holes of his waistcoat, thus displaying his soft and furry breast. Mr. Biggar's "Hear! hear!" is an unceasing sound; once heard can never be forgotten; and exceeds in horrible frequency even that of Mr. Warton.

Of Mr. Parnell himself, Mr. Anderson of course speaks in flattering terms. What he says we all know.

THE LATHAM COMPANY FOR 1884.

From what we can gather, the coming season promises to be a most interesting one. We have been favoured with the sight of a private letter wherein we read of Mr Latham's progress in the engaging of his company, and the many admirable works he is acquiring by purchase and otherwise for production during his forthcoming campaign, and among the latter we notice the grand tragic play by Hermann and Wills, which is at present drawing all London to the Princess's Theatre, entitled "Claudian." "The magnificent setting and mounting of this superb play here, in addition to its intrinsic merits, placed it far above any like production for the past ten years, and it is a significant fact that the English papers here, one and all, dedicated column after column to the praises of the representation, whilst the illustrated periodicals here filled their most attractive pages with copies of the principal scenes and incidents."

Mr. Latham has purchased the dresses, appointments and effects in London, and we will, no doubt, have an opportunity of seeing "Claudian" in a very fine frame of scenic art.

Among other pieces certain of production are "School," by the late Robertson, and "Drink," by the late Charles Reade, while lovers of burlesque will have the pleasure of seeing H. J. Byron's "Alladin," announced during the latter part of the season.

Up to the 1st of May Mr Latham had made several most important engagements, including those of Miss Sarah Beryl, Miss Claude Clenheim—whom, we are assured, is very handsome—Miss Nellie Holmes, and others, while among the gentlemen we notice, [illegible]ay Funes, Mr. James Hardy, Mr. Mu[illegible]ing, Mr. G. V. [illegible]ybrow, Mr. Fred Cullenford, and Mr. Gather[illegible]ole.

The company, which we believe numbers over twenty artistes, was to sail from England early in June, and may be expected to open in Buenos Aires on August 1st, with "Dora" or "Diplomaci," this play when given by Mr and Mrs. Kendal was a most memorable success. Mr. Latham's earliest success in England is also associated with this Society Drama, though he will not appear in it before us, as he reserves his first appearance for later on in the part of "Richelieu" which must be considered his 'cheval de bataille.'

Some magnificent printing has been done by several well-known London firms for Mr. Latham, and it is said that we are to have a season of uniform brilliancy, as the manager has fully resolved to do everything well and leave nothing to chance.

The past should guarantee the future, and we think it will.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Blue noses were the order of the day yesterday, the change in the temperature being very sharp. Everybody passed a miserable day on Sunday, except the poet Amicis, who was entertained like a Prince at a farewell banquet in the Hotel de la Paix. Dr Wilde, Minister of Instruction, and the Lord Mayor were among the guests. The Minister's speech was the most brilliant of the evening. The Lord Mayor's was also most eloquent. Mr D'Amicis left yesterday evening for the Mount, to catch the Nord America.

Neither Havas nor the Nacion told us last week all the news about the dynamite explosions in London. The Jornal do Commercio of Rio has telegrams stating that there were thirty different explosions in various parts of London on the day Scotland Yard was blown up. In addition to the police headquarters, the Carlton Club, the Junior Carlton, the Army and Navy Club, and other buildings suffered severely, and many people were injured. Sir Bartle Frere here is dead.

The entries for the Races at Lanus on the 24th inst. close to-morrow evening at 8.15, and will be opened at that hour at the Bodega, 150 Cangallo. On this occasion Messrs. Crauford & Huergo will hold a grand remate, including the Premio de la Plata to be run for in September. We will publish to-morrow a list of the horses entered for this important race.

There was a little unpleasantness in port on Sunday when the French steamer Congo was leaving. The captain, with a want of gallantry very unusual in his countrymen, refused to allow the ship's passenger ladder to be lowered, and the travellers, including several ladies, old, young and middle-aged, short and tall, fat and lean, had to scramble up a rope ladder, and the serio-comic scenes that occurred may be more easily imagined than described. The only occasion on which a lady looks well on a ladder of ropes is when she is eloping; but dangling in mid-air on the side of an ocean steamer - Oh! shoking!! The captain of the Congo ought to be tried by a jury of his countrywomen, who would certainly not find any "circonstances extenuantes" in the offence.

By S. S. Tagus, just arrived, the last lot of electric light material for La Plata comes. The shipment includes two of the larger size Dynamo-machines, each giving thirty lamps of two thousand candle power. La Plata is to have one immense iron tower in the Plaza, with six powerful lamps thereon, and at each corner of the principal streets there will be a post thirty eight or forty feet high with a lamp of less power. The tower is already being built and should be ready in ten days. From the number of proposals lately put in for the supply of gas for the new capital, it would seem that people are incredulous yet of the fact that the whole city is to be entirely lit with the Brush Electric light, and from the quantity of material ordered and delivered, it will be magnificently lighted. The original installation made last December on the four temporary towers has been in operation every night since then, now for nearly five months, without a single hitch of any kind. Only for two nights was the light stopped, and many reports were circulated as to the cause. There was no coal, that was all! The enemies of the light, who have nightly been on the watch to pick some hole in it, and who thought they had at last got hold of something, were nicely sold. Is should be remembered that the original installation was made for only 15 days; the engine was laid on pieces of wood instead of a foundation, and the dynamo placed in a rough shed, nevertheless there has never been a single hitch, not even during the violent storms that prevailed last March. A proper building has already been planned and will soon be ready to serve as the lighting Station, where all the apparatus will be properly placed. It is hoped that by the beginning of July the complete plant will be in operation, and then the city of La Plata at night will be one of the finest sights in this country.

Editing a newspaper is now the high road to distinction in every country, and our 'gremio' has reason to be proud that one of its members is likely to be the next President of the United States. The Republican convention at Chicago has named Senator Blaine candidate for the presidency of the U. States. The election will take place next November. James G. Blaine was born at Washington, in Pennsylvania on the 31st of January, 1830. He now is 54 years of age. When 13 years old, he entered the preparatory department of the College of Washington, and in 1847, took out his degree at the head of his class. He went next to Kentucky, where he became professor of Mathematics in a military institutions. He met there with a young lady from Maine, whom he married and who persuaded him to settle down in August, in Maine, where he has resided ever since. Having chosen journalism as his profession, he became partner and editor of the Kennebec Journal, in 1854, and editor of the Portland Daily Advertiser, in 1857. He was one of those who organized the Republican party, in Maine, and occupied a seat in the legislature of the U. States from 1858 to 1862. During the last two years, he was president of the Chamber. In 1862, he was elected Deputy to Congress, and was elected in the succeeding periods up to 1876. He became Speaker of the Chamber of Representatives from 1869 to 1874. In 1875, he was again candidate for the Republicans, but he was beaten. In 1876, and 1880, he became the Republican candidate for the presidency, but he was beaten in the first case by Mr. Hayes, and in the second by Mr. Garfield. In 1876, Mr. Blaine was nominated Senator of the U. States for Maine, to fill up a vacancy, and was elected afterwards for the period that ended in 1883. He resigned this post in March 1881, accepting that of Secretary of State, which was offered to him by President Garfield. During the occupation of this post he made himself remarkable for the energy with which he maintained the theory that the European nations should be entirely excluded from all intervention in American affairs.

The big prize in the Montevidean Lottery on Saturday next will be 50,000 pats.

There is a stiff journalistic quarrel going on in the Mount between our jnstly esteemed colleagues the Telegrafo Maritimo and Nacion, and the language indulged in is a caution. We hope it wont end in pistols and coffee without suger.

The Rev. Dr. James Smith M.A. will preach on Sunday next at Quilmes, in the house of the late Mrs Clark, at noon.

In consequence of the inclement weather on Sunday last, the collection for the choir at the Scotch Church was postponed till Sunday next.

We regret to hear that the Rev. Dr. Smith, Rector of St. John's Anglican Church, met with an accident the other day whilst taking a tram-car, from the effects of which he is confined to his bed. We join the Rev. gentleman's numerous friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

To-day or to-morrow will see the first locomotive run through from Pergamino to Rojas, and the line will shortly be opened to the public.

There was a turtle soup feed at the Cafe Colon last night, given and eaten by the members of the Municipality. The toast of the evening was "our noble selves". It is pleasant to see that, after their crushing defeat by the Lord Mayor, the Corporators have so far recovered their spirits as to be able to enjoy a good dinner.

Professor Pressinger's lecture at the Literary Society's rooms to-morrow night will be well worth hearing. His theme is an attractive one—"From B. Aires to the Pacific"—and there can be no doubt as to his doing it the fullest justice.

There will be specially grand performances at the Politeama to-night, to-morrow night, and the night after. That to-night is for the benefit of Mr. Locford, the wonderful performer on the bars, and we wish him the bumper he undoubtedly deserves.

The rain on Sunday was general over the provinces. In most places it was either 'regular' or 'despacio,' and in a few 'fuerte.'

The latest news from the Chupat is that Mr. Lewis Jones's flour mill was blown away to the South Pole last month. Wheat is selling for half nothing and a half (45m/n per fanega of nine arrobes). A coal vein has been discovered fifty leagues from the colony, at the source of the river Chupat. Three of the explorers were killed by Indians. The coal is

SHEEP DIP

NICOTINE

From the finest selected Virginia Tobacco Leaf.

FREE FROM POISON

THIS EXCELS ALL OTHER SHEEP DIPS.

It is uniform in strength, evenly dissolved free from lumps.

After a trial of ALL the New Dips, the highest testimony declares NICOTINE to be the best for both Sheep and Wool.

THIS EXCELS ALL OTHER NICOTINE.

No other is absolutely pure.

Being prepared solely for Sheep Dip, the other Natural Ingredients in it are only such as assist in the cure.

It is the only Dip that contains the highest possible per-centage of Nicotine.

ITS EFFECTS ARE MARVELLOUS.

It Increases the Weight of Wool.

It Improves the Quality of the Wool.

It Strengthens the Sheep and Increases their Vigour and Size.

It will Prevent and Eradicate Scab and other Skin Diseases.

It Cures Internal Diseases.

IT IS THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

It is the Cheapest in proportion to its strength.

It cures from 100 to 200 per cent more Sheep than any other Dip for the same outlay.

It has given 400 per cent profit on its cost, in Wool alone.

DIRECTIONS.—Put 1 Gallon to from 150 to 200 Gallons of Water. It can be used with Cold or Hot Water, but Warm Water makes all cures more effective.

River Plate Testimony

"We have bought the "X L" Sheep Dip (Nicotine) in large quantities, and have no hesitation in saying that of all Sheep Dips Nicotine has proved the most necessary and effective for cure. It has saved our Sheep and increased our Wool far beyond any other Dip. Indeed. we have not failed to use it for years, and dare not be without it."

(Twenty Years' Experience.)—"No Sheep Dip is so economical nor gives so little trouble nor has any other in my long experience proved so effective."

"Tobacco Extract has been used on my Sheep farm for years, and always with success. The Wool is heavier per fleece and better in quality by its use, and the Sheep are healthier and stronger, and fetch better prices than they would if we had not used it. A pure and reliable Extract (such as the "X L" brand) appears to be just what is wanted."

"Nicotine is undoubtedly the best Sheep Dip for Scab. We have used it freely and regularly for several years, and with great success. The "X L" brand is better mixed and more uniform in strength than any other that we have either seen or used."

Australian Testimony.

From a Farm with 80,000 Sheep. Fifteen Years' Experience. "Nothing surpasses Tobacco Extract. We grow our own Tobacco to get it pure, and to be certain of having it at hand when we want it. But a reliable Extract (such as the "X L" brand) would be a saving of much trouble, anxiety, and expense."

Cape Report.

"We have formerly sold the Glycerine, or M'Dougall's Dip, but as the "X L" Tobacco Extract appears to be both cheaper and better, we are now selling it in preference."

READ THE ANALYSIS—

Liverpool, 9th November 1882.

"I hereby certify that I have examined samples of the "X L Nicotine Sheep Dip" sent me, and find it to contain:—

Nicotine	9·30 o/o
Extractive and other Organic Matter	36·56 o/o
Salts of Lime, Potas.	19·92 o/o
Water	34·22 o/o
	100·00 o/o

"This Sheep Dip has evidently been prepared from Tobacco of good quality, as is shown by the large proportion of Nicotine and the character of the extractive matters. It mixes readily with water, and appears to me to be a preparation of even, reliable character, well suited in every way for use as a good Sheep Dip."

June 9th, 1884

Cedulas E	89
Cedulas F	84⅞
National Bank Shares	151¼
Scrip	70

The Bull King came to the front to-day, and where with the push of the bulls, the ease of the money market, the favorable loan news from London and the improved aspect of affairs, shares went up rapidly, and the positions lost last Saturday were regained after a long struggle with the bears. The share market closed on Saturday weak at 148⅛; this morning the market closed firm as a rock at 151¼. The ups and downs of the speculation are remarkable and shew that both bull and bear fall back on powerful elements.

Over five thousand shares were sold during official hours for the end of the month; the market opened at 151, went up to 151½ and closed at 151¼. The Bear King and the great bull operated on a large scale, and the market closed with a strong, rising tendency.—One hundred shares were sold for July at 153½.

Cedulas ruled dull and weak. A few thousand Series E changed hands for cash at 89. About 100,000 were sold for the end of the month at the same rate. About 20,000 Series F were sold cash and for the 30th at 85 and 84½. The speculation is effete.

Bank Scrip ruled in stronger demand today. One hundred changed hands at 69 for cash, and 500 were sold for the end of the month at 70. The market closed with buyers at this rate. There is a much better and firmer feeling in the Scrip.

The exchange market is calm, but the favorable news of the Thirty Million Loan has spread a gleam of sunshine in all circles, and the situation is firmer and more favorable on the strength of the prospects. The Government, it is rumored, will soon begin drawing up to ten millions on account of the loan.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—

For cash E 2,000 at 89

For June 30th E 90,000 at 89

For cash F 8,000 at 85-84½

For June 30th F 11,000 at 85-84½

Sales, 111,000

National Bank Shares—

For June 30th 5,400 at 151-1-¼

For July 31st 100 at 153½

Sales, 5,500

National Bank Certificates, 40 o/o paid—

For cash 100 at $69

For June 30th 500 at $70

Sales, 600

The money market rules very easy and rates continue unaltered. Government Bills are in steady demand and are freely quoted at 7 o/o. There are few floating in the market, and the issue of the Treasury is limited for the moment. There is little doing in loans on stocks.

The stock of wool in Montevideo is estimated at 150,000 arrobes, principally comprising wools from the Department of Colonia. The Montevidean wool market rules firm, and wools of 39 to 40 o/o yield are being shipped at francs 1.85 to 1.95 per kilo in the Antwerp market. The wool export of last month was as follows:—

Antwerp	2,306 bales.
Havre	1,471
Dunkirk	1,805
Liverpool	46
Hamburg	556
Bordeaux	69
Genoa	100
Lisbon	15
New York	547
	6,975 bales.

Advices from Europe state that the very cold weather led to anticipations of a less abundant harvest than last season. These fears had some effect on the wheat market, and some good River Plate qualities were sold at 22 francs. An exceptional lot fetched 24 francs in Antwerp. But the stock of Santa Fé wheat is very abundant, and the sale of same is reported difficult at fs.18, owing to want of uniformity in the cargoes arriving. Owing to this circumstance sales to arrive are nearly impossible. Shippers in Rosario should pay more attention to the classification and endeavor to forward cargoes of one quality.

The history of the export of cereals from this country to the Continent of Europe is one of intermittent activity and dullness, and no steady current of trade in this line can be expected until the National and Provincial Governments listen to the complaints of grain merchants and remove the innumerable obstacles for the development of the cereal industry. If this trade were only fostered this market would become one of the great grain exporters of the world, but the following obstacles are in the way:—

1st—Few and small deposits not large enough to receive all the merchandize that is pouring in from Europe. The results are that merchandize remains for days in the lighters, which have of late become floating deposits. Lighters become scarce; steamers are delayed in port, merchants cannot despatch their goods and there is no end of complaint. Last not least, the exporter fares worst of all, since he can get no lighters to convey produce to the steamers. This is a nuisance known to every man in the market, and lighters have become so scarce that several steam companies are buying steam-tugs and large lighters in Europe in order to have their steamers despatched at their convenience. Dr Plaza, our talented Minister of Finance, should see to this and submit a bill to Congress for the erection of new and larger deposits.

2nd—The organization of the Western Railway, which is faulty in the extreme, to say the least, and does not keep pace with the advance of the province, and has of late become rather an impediment than otherwise to the development of the cereal industry, which strange to say, has beaten the railway, its manager, rolling-stock, and deposits in spite of innumerable drawbacks, and of a systematic red-tape system of putting stumbling-blocks in the way of the farmer. New deposits must be erected at the Once, and at the principal stations on the line. More waggons are necessary for the service, especially for the conveyance of grain.

The above are only two or three items in a long catalogue of deficiencies and obstacles that could be removed with a little good-will and management. The market wants more deposits, more lighters, more waggons, and more brains to manage all this. If these wants are supplied we may look forward to a great future in the export of grain—as long as the present state of affairs continues we can only look forward to the fitful starts of the past. The men in the Government should apply their wits to this question.

The debate in Congress last week on the proposed alteration in the law authorizing the City Improvements loan 8 millions and the Riachuelo loan 4 millions to be negotiated as one loan for 12 millions and a clause introduced in the law to the effect that the Government could not reduce the minimum amortization below one per cent. gave rise to an interpellation of the Minister of Hacienda and a very animated debate. Dr. Plaza gave the house the fullest explanations, and after much discussion the new law was passed. We regret that we have not room for the debate, as many interesting figures transpired in the speeches about the recent loan negotiations in the London market.

To-day at 2 o'clock Calle Rivadavia was on fire in front of Mr. Wenck's famed jewellers' shop; the alarm became general owing to the frantic efforts of the Italian peones to put out the blaze. Calle Rivadavia is at present in such a hopeless state of confusion that there is really no recognizing the old street; it is as much as a man's life is worth to cross the street in front of the club. The blaze was caused by an Italian peon driving his pickaxe into one of the gas pipes, and then one of the small newspaper boys, just for the sport of the thing, lighting a match and setting fire to the earth steeped in gas. We suppose Mr. Wenk's premises are insured else the risk for him would be fearful, all the gold watches dinning room clocks, diamond rings, and bracelets, all exposed to the most imminent destruction; when we left the opened blazing sewer the peones were throwing earth on the broken gas pipe, but even the very earth was in a blaze. To-morrow the peones break up the pavement in the grand plaza in front of the Cathedral, and then these insurrectionists will have to deal with the Lord Mayor.

This week the Government will lay before Congress its great measure for the erection of a National Mortgage Bank, Capital 20 millions National Dollars, to be raised by the issue of National Bonds issued for that purpose. The message of the Government to Congress is a most important paper, and reflects high credit on the Minister of Hacienda, Dr. Plaza, who very properly says that the Government in creating this new branch of the National Bank merely wishes to give the initiative to a move which it would prefer to leave to private companies, and therefore the start it makes will be small, so as to leave room for private companies to continue the work so much needed for the country, and which the Government gives a start to. We shall reserve further comment on this great measure until the papers are before the House and given to the public.

The Nord America took perhaps the largest mail and largest number of 1st, 2nd and 3rd class passengers of any steamer leaving this port. We congratulate Mr. Christopherson on his brilliant success. It is quite clear now that 15 days is the time for passenger steamers henceforward to make the run home, and the passenger trade between the Plate and Europe now is quite sufficient to support such fast steamers.

Mr. and Mrs Auld and family leave on a pleasure trip to Europe in the Hogarth. We are much indebted to Mr. Auld, who for so many years has acted as our agent in Chascomus; during his absence the business will be carried on by his brother, Mr Archibald Auld.

Two strong, hardy Welsh colonists have come up from the Chuput, and are looking for employment, they are good ploughmen and first-rate farmers; should any party need them on an estancia we request they will call at our office.

The National Bank put up a notice to-day that it is prepared to draw exchange for the next packet; this good news spread through the market, and at once stiffened exchange; all parties requiring bills knew where to get them; yet spite of all the noise last week by the exchange brokers about the scarcity of bills we hear that £100,000 stg. more than supplies the whole market, which shows the great push made by a ring of pessimists, to disturb things in this market. Two months hence there will be more exchange offering than there will be takers; thus the National Bank carries the market through the winter. Our wool exports for the next clip are estimated by those who know all about wool, at 350,000 bales; this year's clip, we have reported to our brother editor in London, who is compiling the new River Plate Handbook, at 300,000 bales—and the total import and export trade for the year at 160 millions Nat. dollars.

Mr Catlin, who has been taking a run down to the South to look at the estancias, was welcomed on his return; he leaves shortly for Europe.

Dr Bengolea, accompanied by a large crowd of friends, left this evening in the Apolo to catch the Nord America in Montevideo.

President Roca has presented Mr D'Amicis with a beautiful album and some tiger skins; our distinguished visitor takes with him the most pleasant recollections of the Plate.

Por el valor del prestamo de cedulas hipotecarias que produceu una renta igual al interes que cobra el Banco.

El valor del inmueble hipotecado no debe ser menor de $f 2000 n el prestamo menos de $f.500.

Los prestamos hipotecarios no pueden exceder de la mitad del valor del inmueble.

El interesado se obligara a pagar una anualidad que dure todo el termino del contrato. La anualidad se compone del interes del capital prestado, del fondo destinado á amortizarlo y de la comision del Banco. La anualidad se divide en trimestres, y las cedulas que al presente da el Establecimiento son:—

Serie E.

Dura 20 años 100 dias 6 o/o de interes, 2 o/o de amortizacion y 1 o/o de comision.

Pagadas las anualidades convenidas por todo el tiempo del contrato, queda la hipoteca redimida, y libre el deudor de las obligaciones hacia el Banco. El deudor podra libertar el inmueble, en todo o parte, anticipandose el contrato.

El que pretendiese prestamos del Banco se presentara por escrito, designando el inmueble que ofrece en hipoteca de una manera precisa, acompañando los titulos de propiedad, los boletos de contribucion directa y espresando al mismo tiempo su estension el gravamen, o los gravamenes que deben ser levantados simultaneamente que se constituya el credito hipotecario. En la Secretaria encontraran el formulario y las tablas de amortizacion.

Los deudores por trimestres haran las entregas de 8 a 15 de Enero, 8 a 15 de Abril, 8 a 15 de Junio, 8 a 15 de Octubre.

Con el fondo cobrado por amortizacion, se rescataran cedulas por sorteos a la par, y con anticipacion de un trimestre.

Las ventas de las cedulas trimestrales las pagara el Banco de 1 a 15 de Enero, de 1 a 15 de Abril, de 1 a 15 de Junio y de 1 a 15 de Octubre.

El Banco podra servir de intermediario gratuito entre el capitalista y el hipotecario para la colocacion comercial de las Cedulas. A este objeto recibira depositos sin interes, que para su colocacion tendran la prelacion con que entraron al Banco.—Estos depositos pasaran al Banco de la Provincia.

El mismo Banco hipotecario recibe sus cedulas en deposito gratuito, dando al depositante una libreta que servira de certificado del deposito.

El deposito se admite desde una cedula de $f.50 que es el minimum de las que emite el Establecimiento.

A Derangement of the Liver

THE CAUSE OF DISEASE IN THE STOMACH, KIDNEYS, AND Nervous System.

Below will be found a brief summary of a Lecture upon the Liver, delivered before the Eclectic College of Medecine, by

Dr. J. Haydock

The Liver has been known as the great blood-maker and blood-purifier of the circulation. From its size and spongy structure, it plays a most important part in the animal economy, as regards assimilation and nutrition. Food taken in the mouth and acted upon by the digestive organs of the stomach is converted into Glucose and Peptone, and in these forms enters the Portal vein. Here, by the action of the liver, these substances are converted into a form of sugar and pass out of the liver by a large vein, called the Hepatic vain, into the great circulation. The new material now formed serves two purposes: viz: the maintenance of heat in the body and assisting in the cell growth of the system.

Dr. Murchison says "The composition of bile and its secretion is very complex. It is constantly being secreted by the liver, and, increasing suddenly before eating, gradually decreases as soon as the appetite is satisfied and feeding ceases." Now, if this most important organ of the body becomes torpid, or the passage of bile interfered with, emaciation and disease ensue. I note eight marked peculiarities that now occur, and which we all know off:—

1. The patient complains of a feeling of weight and fullness of the stomach.
2. Distension of the bowels by wind.
3. Heartburn.
4. A feeling of weariness, pains in the limbs and great sleepiness after meals.
5. A bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, and furred tongue.
6. Constipation, with an occasional attack of diarrhœa.
7. Headache in front of head.
8. Depression of spirits and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to leave everything for to-morrow.

All of the above symptoms go to show functional derangement of the liver; and now comes the great importance of any error made as to the condition of the patient. He should immediately provide himself with a Liver Stimulant, the most common form of which is a Pill. Daily experience shows that this, when the Pill is compounded properly, is the readiest mode of inciting and promoting the

We see by the latest papers to hand that that irrepressible lady the Deceased Wife's Sister is coming to the front with a rush at home, and is likely soon to get her much-abused head first past the winning post.

The burglar fraternity made a prodigious haul on Saturday night from the auction mart of Mr Constenla, No. 14 Calle Bolivar. They got in with false keys and got off with $5,000 % hard cash and $400,000 % in jewels. All the peones and employees of the mart have been arrested, and the Policia is turned inside out with excitement at this daring burglary in the heart of the city, and a stone's throw from the headquarters of the police.

The Lord Mayor, it is said, intends to greatly increase the sphere of action and the staff of the City Analyst, to save the public from being poisoned. Amongst other steps analysts will be on duty in the Custom House, and adulterated wines, etc., will be pitched into the river. This is all right enough, but most of the poison now sold as wine is not imported so, but is "doctored" or made up in this city.

A "vigilante" behaved heroically on Sunday in Calle Corrientes by seizing a run-a-way pair of carriage horses by the bits, and holding on to them like grim death for two squares, when one of the animals fell and the other stopped. The plucky policeman was not in the least hurt.

Mr Pemberty, formerly manager of the famous Huanacha silver mines in Bolivia, and a gentleman of most extensive mining experience in other parts of the world, has been commissioned by the National Government to explore and report on the mineral resources of the Republic, from Jujuy to Magellan's Straits, a work that will take a couple of years, and from which immense results may be expected. While Mr. P. is at work Congress should pass a Mining Code, as the confusion in the Tower of Babel was order itself compared with the state of our present mining laws, so-called. This country will yet astonish creation in the mining line.

The rain on Sunday put the South end of town in a shocking state. All the open trenches and drains of the City Improvement works were filled to overflowing; most of the streets were turned into foaming torrents, and locomotion in any shape was all but impossible. The 'pampero' yesterday, however, dried up everything in "no time."

Next Thursday will be the Feast of Corpus Christi and consequently a strict holiday.

Ferrari has telegraphed to Europe for another prima donna, tenor and baritone for his Rio Janeiro company. We heard yesterday that, on the night of the big row, during the performance of Faust, some young "gommeux" made an attempt to turn off the gas and create a panic; but Ferrari was a few minutes in advance of them, and had the key in his pocket just in the nick of time; thus saving a panic, a stampede, and perhaps hundreds of lives.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup. Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer Toothache, Meningites, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan-5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 22, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but transcient. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
